BIO:

My love of creating art started when I was young, taking oil painting lessons in the third grade, and art classes in high school and college.

After college I taught Commercial Art in the university system. Throughout my life I have continued to study art and have worked in advertising and interior design.

Currently my work is featured in the Stillwater Art Guild Gallery. I participated in the Guild. Spring Show, abstract Show, the 50th Anniversary of the Scenic National River Show, and in the Zephyr Theatre Visions and Desires Show.

I am a native of Stillwater and live here today with my husband. We have three sons and five grandchildren.

ARTIST STATEMENT:

As an abstract artist I have worked to free up my art. I work intuitively - letting my art speak for me. Most of my pieces start with a line to open up the canvas.

Trusting myself to study and develop the piece to a point that is pleasing to me is always a challenge and a joy.

My art is my way of expressing myself. Hopefully it will touch someone in a special way and add joy to the viewer.
